

I would just like to voice my opposition to letting powerful companies own yet more media outlets. This decision should be postponed until a more informed public debate can be held. There are so few voices in the mass media already - must we give people like Murdoch yet more power?